Subject: New Year = New Website!!

It's a new year and it's time for a new look. Let me help you give that website a face lift and pack it with more content.

I am here to make this a hassle free process. I will work as your personal web developer. Send me the content, idea, graphics, etc. and I'll make it happen on your site.

Please check out our samples at www.trackmy.com/site_clients.htm for ideas. Look through those websites and you'll see contests, specific lenders, information on specific farming areas, customized MLS searches, referral lists, and more.

Your site already contains the meat-and-potatoes of what consumers are looking for (Real Estate information, the latest listings, information about you, etc.), but I can add to your website with your input.

You don't have to make this change, but with the new year it is a good idea.

Many of you have spent a lot of time already on your site by working with me.. and you're site is just fine... But many others have not taken advantage of this opportunity, so if you would like to do this, please give me a ring.

Happy New Year!!!

Take care,
